

To Whom It May Concern:

As President of the Health, Outdoor, and Physical Education (HOPE) Student Association, I have created connections between educators, shared resources, and organized professional development days centered around Health Education. My work experience outside of university represent my commitment to helping build healthy communities. I look forward to creating a culture of health and wellness within my future school community. Teaching Health Education will allow me to be on the front lines; giving students the tools they need to succeed on a day-to-day basis. To know that you are simultaneously teaching students and helping create a positive culture is about as much as I could hope for as a teacher.

Kind Regards,
